WATER WORKS .- The depression in the bond market does not seem to have impeded the progress of our water-works in the least. Every branch of the works has now been let to first-rate, reliable citizen contractors, and they are all at work.

The pipe contractors, Messrs. Hutchings & Co. are rapidly casting the pipe, at the rate of fifteeen tons perday. The article produced by them is said to be very superior to the pipe commonly used for

The contracts for the foundation of the engine use and construction of the reservoir have both en let to W. P. Hahn, Esq., who has at this time targe force of hands at work upon them. Of Mr. Hahn's energy and responsibility we need not speak. They are too well known.

The two Cornish engines have been undertaken Ly our enterprising founderymen, Messrs. Roach & Long, who have already commenced their construction. We congratulate the Water Company in having secured the services of such skillful machinists and reliable gentlemen as Messrs, Roach & Long in the construction of their engine. If these gentlemen do not produce a splendid specimen of workmanship, which will not only add to their already widely extended reputation, but 1cflect the highest credit upon the mechanical skill of the city of Louisville, we shall be very much disap

This enterprise has always had our warmest sympathics and best wishes for its success. We regard its completion as of the first importance to the future growth and prosperity of Louisville. We rejoice to see such progress made in it. From the very out-et everything connected with this enterprise seems to have moved evenly and smoothly along, There has been up to this date no misstep taken, no balk, no interruption. We look forward now with a confident assurance that the work will soon be

CLOSING OF THE MECHANICS' INSTITUTE-EXIL-BITION FOR COLORED PERSONS .- The Board of Distors of the Mechanics' Institute have resolved to close their annual exhibition on Tuesday night, September 15. Upon that occasion the premium will be announced by the secretary and the valedic tory address delivered by Charles D. Kirk.

To-night has been set apart for the exclusive visit of the colored population. They will all be heartily welcome, and will find their attendance upon the exhibition not only pleasant but profitable.

We have found it impossible during the progress of the exhibition to notice all the interesting and important articles. They combine every species of minufactured goods and reflect the highest credit upon the enterprise and taste of the exhibitors.

Messrs. Walton & Barrett, of Fourth street, the extensive dealers in china, queensware, &c., exhibit a ease filled with the choicest specimens of their wares. They are enterprising merchants, import directly from Europe, and in all their transactions merit the large business they transact.

Drs. Fitts & Wilson have on exhibition a case o dental instruments and work which are really beautiful. These gentlemen are accomplished dental surgeons, and are crowded with patients at their office on Fifth street, beyond Green.

One of the cosiest, neatest, and most attractive art'cles is a miniature stove, with all the trimmings, m ide at the Eagle Foundry of Wallace, Lithgow, & Co., by two young men named Brecker. It is a pere:t gem, and is highly creditable to their mechani-

We are indebted to our excellent friend Mr. T. A. Read, of the firm of Read, Anderson, & Co., for files of late New York papers. In addition to the previous elegant and extensive assortment of hats and similar goods for the fall and winter trade, this firm will in a few days be in receipt of heavy just purchased by Mr. Read, in New York on the most favorable terms ever known.

The following little poems are from a pen new to our columns. They are however the emanations of as genuine a poetical spirit as ever dreamed the dreams of heaven:

York courts, on Thursday, James Lowery, from Shelby county, Ky., who was on his way to Eugland, made complaint that on his arrival on the preceding day, while looking for his baggage, he was accosted by a stranger, who volunteered to assist him in the scarch. The stranger soon found it, and immediately after, against Lowery's expressed wishes, placed it on a cart and drove off. Lowery followed the cart, which stopped in front of a ticket office on Cedar street, kept by Josiah Slover and Henry Smithers, when the baggage was put in the office. They, having found out Lowery's destinanation, offered him a ticket, for which they charged $25, which he purchased, tendering in payment a $100 bill, and requesting the change in gold. Smithers replied they would give him gold, and if he had more paper money they would change that also. Lowery then hauded over $7 more in bills. Smithers immediately returned $38 80 in gold, wrapped his high-souled bearing, and his conscientious hones up iu paper, instead of $82, to which Lowery was entitled, remarking at the same time that he wished Lowery would not count his gold in the office, as another person was present who had paid more for his ticket thau Lowery, and he would not like the former to know how much change was returned. Upou counting the money, and finding the deficit, Lowery represented that there was a mistake of $43 20, and demauded his bills again. They then returned $27 34, declining to restore any more. Lowery thereupon returned his ticket, and demanded the money he had fused to refund the amount, thus swindling him of

He has there itizens. The plan proposed for the purchase of the beautiful structure entitled "Floral Hall," and also f the "Harrison Grove," is entirely feasible, and we most heartily commend it. Agricultural and orchard and garden products certainly demand greater cous deration at the hands ot associations composed chiefly of persons living in and near to a large city than they have hitherto received, and the purchase of this hall will tend greatly to promote an increased interest in this class of products. We hope that prompt action will be had upon the suggestions of "A Member" by the parties who are most interested in this commendable movement

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

The river has fallen nearly three inches since Friday night. Last evening there were 3 feet 8 inches water in the canal. Boats from below report from 414 to 5 feet water in the channel. The arrivals are very few.

The Fashion arrived on Saturday night. She has been laid up. We are indebted to her attentive officers for a memorandum.

The hull of Capt. Sturgeon's new boat, the Diana which was launched on Saturday, has been moored at the foot of Sixth street. The D. will be completed there.

On Thursday evening the steamer Quincy, bound from Keokuk to St. Louis, encountered a severe storm of wind which eame very near demolishing her ladies' cabin. The gale struck her on the larboard side near the stern, and tore off all the roof of the rooms in the ladies' cabin on that side, and passing round the stern, uuroofed one or two of the rooms on the other side, as well as that of the hall back of the cabin. No one was hurt.

The New Orleans Picayune reports a sudden rise of some twenty feet in Red river, above Shreveport, by which the adjacent country was overflowed.

The little steamer Freighter has been sold at Wheeling for $4,000. She is hereafter to run on St. Croix river. The John Tompkins, which ran aground on Portland bar on Friday evening, was got off yesterday, and left for her destination yesterday morning. There are a number of small boats advertised to leave for ports below. The J. H. Conn, Captain Lamb, and the City of Cairo, Capt. Wood, are up for St. Louis. Capt. Carras' fine little steamer, Sunflower, is advertised to leave for New Orleans to-morrow. She is lying at the foot of Fourth street. The Wm. Knox will leave for the Tennessee river

The Grapeshot, now at Portland, will also be brought out in a day or two. The W. A. Eaves is the packet for Henderson to day. She arrived early last evening, and we are indebted to Capt. Duncan for a copy of the manifest. The steamer Allegheny has been purchased by Capt. G. W. Cable for $17,000.

THE DEATH OF GWYNN PAGE .- We published, on Saturday, the resolutions adopted by the members of the har of Louisville in relation to the death of their late associate Gwynn Page, Esq. He died at the White Sulphur Springs, in Virginia, on the morning of September 1st, after a lingering illness. He died surrounded by friends and a few near relatives. Mr. Page was well known and much loved in Kentucky, which was his home for many years. He was a gentleman of the old school of politeness, unswerving gentility, and high-minded and delicate sentiments of personal honor. He had reached the pride of manhood with an umblemished private and public reputation, beloved and honored by all who knew him. In his professional career he was emineutly successful: his strict integrity, ty as a lawyer won confidence, while his talents and learning gave him a position at the bar among our most celebrated advocates and made for him an influence which would have gratified the most ambitious among his associates. He was, as has been acknowledged by his brother members of the bar, an exemplar in the profession, and possessed the highest esteem of all who knew him well. Mr. Page was several times houored with a seat in the State Legislature, and discharged the duties of Speaker of paid for that. They took back the ticket, but rethe House of Representatives with emiuent graceexcel in his prefession, and in this he was successful.

> A few years ago, Mr. Page determined to seek unk down to his last rest amid friends and relations who mourn his loss in common with the many in this city who have received in sincere sadness the intelligence of his death. Few men have enjoyed in life a more enviable reputation and few are mourned in death by as many warm-hearted aud sincere friends as Gwynn Page.

THE HOG CHOLERA.-The Henderson Commercial gives an account of the sad havoc made by the hog cholera in the Bend, near Heuderson. Scarcely a farmer has escaped destruction among his stock. Many persons have lost every hog, both young and old, and some have but two or three left to tell the devastation that has taken place. The symptoms are not those of the hog cholera, but more nearly resembling the quinzy. This disease cannot be attributed to strychnine, as there are no distilleries in ets in crimson attire and the atmosphere is softened | the vicinity. A farmer in Perry county publishes a remedy which he says is effectual. He throws the suffering pig upon his back, forces open his mouth, and applies a small quantity of tar to the roots of In order to accommodate the large number of the animal's tongue. Money Matters .- The panic in the money market seems to be far more severe elsewhere than it is here. However, reports of two suspensions were current in this city on Saturday, but they are not large houses.

Very unfavorable reports reach us from St. Louis. The papers from that city meution no failures, but passengers who left there on Saturday report the suspension of half-a-dozen houses, among them a large grocery and commission firm.

Telegraphs were received from New York on Saturday announcing that the Huguenot Bank at New Paltz, N. Y., and Bank of the South County, at Wahefield, R. I., had been thrown out in that citythe cause not stated.

We publish in another column a list of fainres for the past week, as reported by the New York Independent. Several failures have since taken place, were announced by telegraph. Among them were the large manufacturing firm of Phillips, Allen, & Co., of Providence, R. I., whose prints are celebrated the world over, and Frederick G. Swan, a large dry goods merchant.

We see from our Cincinnati exchanges that the bankers there are not receiving at par any Eastern money except those of the cities of New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore, and New Haven. Upon the other Eastern notes they charge 5 per cent. iscount. The Illinois and Wisconsin notes are bought by the same at 5 per cent. discount, but the Indiana specie-paying notes are but 1 per cent, dis-

We learn that the bankers here have fixed the rate of Indiana and Ohio Strte Bank notes at 1/2 per cent. discount; the old banks in Tennessee at 1, and the free banks in Tennessee and Indiana at 2 per cent. discount.

The Indianapolis Journal says that the concern at Terre Haute issuing Watson's Checks has gone by the board-repudiated. This is no more than what may be expected of every shinplaster institution .-When these concerns fail, there is no such recourse as is provided by law in the cases of regular banks A few days ago the failure of the Bank of New Jersey, at New Brunswick, was announced. A dispatch says that the suspension is believed to be only temporarily. Bill holders are advised not to sacrifice their notes, as they are worth dollar for dollar, and are taken by the business men at New Bruns. wick at par. The entire liabilities of the hank are $200,000, while their means to pay with are over $500,000.

We now give some comments on money affairs from different cities. The New Times, of Friday, says:

The gradual improvement in money affairs was again felt to-day at most of the large down-town hanks, where the discounts were quite equal to the mainring payments. There would seem to be no good reason why this should not continue, as we hear every day of considerable additions to the speele reserve, both from the sub-treasury and through seme of the express companies—a few parcels having on the other hand gone to the West. All parties teel that in this important item the banks are now abundantly strong to let up in the curtailment and to discard all fear of the remaption of anything like an active export demand. The difficulty with our foreign exchanges, at the moment, is the extreme duliness of the demand, which not only silences all talk of specie shipments, but really interferes with export orders for produce, a number of which could be exceuted in grain if the bills could be arisfactorily placed. We quote on London 108(210) $\frac{1}{2}$ cent. Paris $22\frac{1}{2}$(6.5.18\frac{1}{2})$; mostly nominal. The improvement in money here is yet too gradual to help thangement of produce it on the West. Tepiris from Chicago, funding, and isotors.

There is a good currency to-day for strictly prime name at 15 calls P cent. If P be asked where all the liabilities from the city failures find a resting place, we are unable to answer with any degree of certainty. It must not be inferred, however, the banks are altogether clear of it, or part of it.

The improved toue in the stock market.

part of it.

The improved tone in the stock market noticed rester-day afternoon was firmly sustained to-day, and the hrokers report at the close less disposition to press good stock-on-sale. The general market leaves off steady.

The Baltimore American, of Friday, says:

The money market to-day has worn a more gloomy aspect than for some days past. The relief granted within the last few days by the hanks does not seem to have eased the market at all, and money is still very tight. The ruling rates on the street to-day tor prime paper have been 1½ to 2 % cent, ptr month, and the note brokers find it exceedingly difficult to place it even at these rates.

The Cincinnati Gazette, of Saturday, says: The money market exhibited no new feature. Matters remain very quiet, the discount houses doing little or nothing. Eastern exchange is scarce at 2 % cent. prem. for corrency in the general markets business continues dult. Flour was further depressed, with sales of good brands at $4.25, and we understood there were sellers of superfine, at close, at $4.15. There were few buyers for round lots at over $4.00.

The St. Louis Democrat, of Saturday, says:

The St. Louis Democrat, of Saturday, says:

We do not believe that there is any adequate conset for the slarm that seems to have taken possession of many historian men. We do not pretend to deay that there is a strong pressure in the money market. It cannot be concalled that we are in the midst of one of those crisis which every few years visit the community. It is evident enough that individuals here and there must and will suffer. It is even certain that some whose means are large, and who ultimately will come out right, must temporarily succumb to adverse influences. But there is no ground for believing that there will be a general disturbance unless people bring down such a disaster on their own heads by their fears.

There is little or no discounting done; most of the banks having already accommedated their customers to the extent of their abilities, and some from prudential or selfish notives, as is said, drawing in and hoarding up their surplus funds. The private bankers of course are very close and cantlons. On the street those who have money to lean are getting their own terms. On the first class paper—the rates ranging from 2 to 25 cent, per month.

Nothing new in currency or exchange. Both very dull. Produce bills can find no sale.

And lastly, the Chicago Tribune, of Saturday,

Our store-houses are fast filling up with flour. Times are dull enough in the produce market generally, and will continue so till city bankers can have confidence in Faster, houses, so that shipmentacan take place. There is more enough in the bank vanits to huy all the grain arriving enough in the bank vanits to huy all the grain arriving, immense as receipte are.

Elevators, lake vessels, railroads, and everything must come to a stand still if an improvement is not soon had. Lumbermen are in a strait to meet their hank accounts, and farmers cannot pay their lumber and other bills until they receive pay for their grain. The flour and wheat of the country is needed East, and nikes it is sent on soon, the close of navigation will prevent its being shipped at all, except at great expense. The Canadians and some vessel owners are buying to some extent, but prices are so low that helders are loth to sell, even when offered the cash at present ruling rates.

LOUISVILLE AND CINCINNATI MAIL COMPANY. It has, we understand, been alleged against this company that they refused to give free passage to the officers of the U. S. Agricultural Society who visited our city on the occasion of the late fair. Probably this erroneous statement grew out of the fact that one of the officers of the Society, Major Poore, paid his fare at Cincinnati for Louisville without announcing himself an officer of the Society, and without the clerks knowing him to be such. In this city Capt. Sherley refunded the money and gave him a free ticket to Cincinnati.

Some weeks ago Mr. Lawrence Young called upon Capt. Sharley and received from him free tickets for all the Seciety. These tickets were promptly forwarded, and Major Poore failed to receive his only from not being at his home when it arrived there. The Mail Company acted with liberality whenever particularly requested to do so.

LAUNCH OF THE DIANA.-The graceful hulk of Capt. Sturgeon's new steamboat, Diana, was cominlitted to its native wave from the Jeffersonville dock, on Saturday evening, amidst the plaudits of au admiring throng, assembled to witness the spertacle. The fair skeleton took to the river as if to a lover's embrace, and the river folded it lovingly to its bosom as if it were already clothed upon with beauty and glowing with the hues of life The company present were hearty and unanimous in their admiration of the launch, and of the noble form it placed upon the element it is destined in a few weeks to tread with such glorious majesty. We congratulate Capt. Sturgeon upon the splendid promise of his Diana, and are confident that only himself can Eclipse her.

€ Stepheu Bronson, Jr., of Chicago, has been held to bail in $15,000 to answer a charge of steal ing from the Merchants and Mechanics' Bank, of that city, of $52,000 in Cherokee notes.

Col. Charles A. May, U. S. A., recently in command at Carlisle Barracks, has been relieved by Col. Critteuden, and left the place. Before his departure a public dinner was tendered to him by the citizens of Carlisle, which he was compelled to decilize by other averagement.

Berlioz, the composer, having heard that it is intended to perform in New York, his sacred trilogy, "L'Enfance du Christ." has written a letter saying, "I should feel glad it you could possibly dissuale the agreement of the saying the present of the saying suade the persons who have this idea from executing it. I hope uext year to make a trip to America, in which case it really would be a pity to the work as well as to the author, if it should be personal, there before my arrival, and when I am under the state of the such that the formed there before my arrival, and when I am un-able to conduct personally the uccessary rehearsals.'

Liszt, the great pianist, has contradicted the report that he is coming to America, this or next sea-son, under the management of any agent. When-ever he does come he says it shall be "as a pianist and teacher, and with the intention of leaving America no more." America no more.

CRUMP & WELSH,

LOVE LAUGHS AT CATHOLIC PRIESTS. - The New Haven Palladinm says that an Irish Catholic named Connolly, living at the South, lately came to New Haven to marry an Irish Protestant girl named Mary Ann Gibbons, the arrangement being made that she was to be left undisturbed in her religion, and to be married by a Protestant elergyman. She was willing, however, to be also married by a Catholic. They proceeded on their errand, and, the Protestant elergyman not being at home, went to the Catholic priest. He asked the woman if she belonged to his church—and she said "No, that she was a Protestant." He then inquired if she did not "intend to adopt the religion of her husband, and go to his church?" She answered that she did He then asked her if she "did not intend to I ring her children to his church for baptism, and allow them to be brought up in that faith?" She said she "had no children, and might not have, and if she did she could make no pledges on that subject." Upon which the priest brought his hand with great force upon his book, and said roughly: "Connolly, why don't you put away this woman, and get one of your own church? I will not marry you, and I forbid you going to a Protestant to be married. I forbid it, on pain of excommunication. And you, who have come in this company, if one of you go to see those persons married by a Protestant, I will excommunicate you." The bridegroom and his bride departed, and with one of their male friends went to the Rev. Mr. Littlejohn, Rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, who married them without asking any impertment questions. The affair has created a good deal of smothered indignation among the better class of Catholics, and it is quite probable that it will be the means of making a "heretic" for life of Connolly.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Courier and Inquirer says the receipts from public lands during the fiscal year ending 30th of June, 1857, in the several States and Territories, were as follows:

The total includes receipts on account of Delaware trust lands, which do not belong to the regular transactions of the land-office any more than the $90,000 received from the sale of Fort Snelling.

The Department has not yet prepared its annual statement of the quantity of lands clienated during the year, but it is probable that it was larger than during any former period. The comparatively insignificant cash receipts may be explained by the unprecedented quantity of bounty land warrants reccived. Another cause of the large receipts of 1856 and 1855 was the entry of lands under the acts graduating the prices according to the length of time they had been in market. Those lands had been principally entered up previous to the beginning of the present year.

FORGING LAND WARRANTS -A German, named Henry Schroeder, was on Friday arrested at St. Louis on a charge of forging U. S. land warrants, and also of obtaining from the postoffice, from fraudulent motives, letters of his brother-in-law, Diedrich Claus. Schroeder will be tried before the U. S. District Court on the 21st inst.

These remarks were suggested by the conversa-tion in an commibus—that noble institution for the student of men and manners—between a friend and schoolmaster. Our teacher was caustic, mirthful, and sharp. His wit flashed like the polished edge of a diamond, and kept the "buss in a roar." The entire community of insiders—and whoever is in-timate with those conveyances can form a pretty good idea of our numbers—inclusive of the "one more" so we'll known to the fraternity, their head, eyes and ears one way, and finally our teacher said:

I can always tell the mother by the boy. The crehin who draws back with doubled fists, and plunges at his playmate, if he looks at him askance, has a very questionable mother. She may feed him and clothe him, cram him with sweetmeats and coax him with promises, but if she gets mad she rights. She will pull him by the jacket; she will give him a knock on the back, she will drag him by the hair; she will call him all sorts of wicked names; while passion plays over her face in lambent threes the hair; she will call nim an sorts of which themes while passion plays over her face in lambent flames that curl and writhe out of the corners of her eyes.

we never see the courteous little fellow and we never see the courteous inthe fenow with smooth locks and gentle manner:—in whom delicacy does not detract from courage and manliness, but what we say, "that boy's mother is a true lady." Her words and ways are soft, loving, and quiet. If she reproves, her language is, "my son"—not "you little wretch—plague of my life—you torment—you seemp."

She hovers before him as a pillar of light before the wandering Israelites, and her beams are reflect-ed in his face. To him the word mother is synonythe wandering Israelites, and her beams are reflected in his face. To him the word mother is synonymous with everything pure, sweet, and beautiful. Is he an artist? In after life the face that with holy radiance shines on his canvas will be the mother's face. Whoever flits across his path with sunny smiles, and soft, low voice, will bring his mother's image freely to his breast. She is like my mother will be the highest meed of praise. Not even when the hair turns silver, and the eyes grow dim, will the majesty of that life and presence desert him. But the ruffian mother—alas! that there are such!—will form the ruffian character of the man. He, in turn, will become a merciless tyrant, with a tongue sharper than a two edged sword, and remembering the brawling and the cuffing, seek some meek, gentle victim for the sacrifice, and make her his wife, with the condition that he shall be master. And master he is, for a few short years, when he wears the widower's weed till he finds a victim "number two." We wonder not there are so many awkward, ungainly men in society—they have been trained by women who do not care for the holy nature of their trust. They have been made bitter to, the heart's core, and that bitterness will find vent and lodgment somewhere.

FOREIGN NEWS PER EUROPA.

Great Britain.—The telegraphic news from the East had produced great gloom in London, and the funds had experienced a further decline. We quote the money article in the London Times of the 29th: "The apparently disastrous conflict with the mutineers before Agra was the chief subject of regret, but increased queasiness was felt from the fact of a rising having been attempted at Hyderabad, where any serious movement might be likely to operate unfavorably on the Madras army. Consols for money opened at the closing quotations of Thursday, 90% to \(\frac{1}{2} \), and receded to 90\(\frac{1}{2} \), at which they remained for some time, with a very flat appearance. Ultimately there were buyers at 90\(\frac{1}{2} \) for money, while for the 9th of September last, the price was 90\(\frac{1}{2} \) to the new account in October, transactions have been eutered into at 90\(\frac{1}{2} \). The condition of the crops in England, Ireland, and Scotland was on the whole encouraging. In Lingland, the wheat crop may be pronounced anusurlogland, the wheat erop may be pronounced anusually productive. The barley erop is of unusual extent, but will probably yield barely an average per acre. The oat crop is decidedly below its average productiveness. Pulse crops are for the most part inferior. Potatoes have promised better, but are more diseased than they have been for several years. The hay crop is good, and unusually well got. Turnips are generally inferior. Mangel wurzels generally good. In the south of England, nearly all the corn is earried and shows a most satisfactory yield corn is carried, and shows a most satisfactory yield. In the midland districts harvest work has made great progress, and is daily extending northwards. In Ireland, since 1826, there has not been so favora-In Ireland, since 1826, there has not been so favora-ble a season as the present, and a week or so more of the brilliant weather we have had during Au-gust is all that is wanted to realize the prospect of an early and abundant harvest. There are no loag-er any complaints of failure in the potato crop, the symptoms of blight which had shown themselves in some localities in the course of last month having entirely disappeared. In Scotland, the harvest operations are now general, and the weather continues to be most favorable for hardening the grain. The crop will be an average one. Potato disease has shown itself in the north of Scotland, but is not likely to become anything like general.

The case of John Doherty, the failed produce broker, was brought before the Liverpool police court. The charge was that he obtained two acceptances of £2950 from Bingham & Co., corn merchants, by falsely representing that a certain bill of ledium, which he presented was a precibile intruchants, by falsely representing that a certain bill of lading which he presented was a negotiable instrument, when, in fact, a duplicate of it had previously been deposited with Hubbard & Co., for another advance. Steering clear of technical questions raised by counsel, the magistratesaid he should only look at the substantial matters disclosed, and held the prisoner for trial at the assizes, requiring bail in

The Massacre at Caunpore.—We have nothing in the way of details as to this terrible transaction; but the way of details as to this terrible transaction; but the London Times of August 28 describes Nena Sabib us the fiend who dragged 132 European fugitives, chiefly women and children, from boats on the Ganges to the parade-ground of Cawnpaore, and there murdered the whole in one helpless mass; and adds, that, having a second opportunity of the same kind, he has made the same use of it. At the date of the first affair it was said that he had a very large force, the nucleus being a body of armed men, with artillery, though known to be a bitter enemy of the British rule, and with what he considered a strong private grievance. After repeating the language of the telegraphic dispatch in regard to the garrison teing obliged to surrender in consequence of famine, the Times says: the Times says:

being obliged to surrender in consequence of famine, the Times says:

We will own to a melanchoir satisfaction in the thought that, by the breach of this capitulation, we are now at liberty to deal with Nena Sahib according to all the laws of peace and of war. We should, indeed, he sorry to be under any obligation or in any sort of covenant with the deliberate murderer of more than a hundred women and children. It is difficult, indeed, to imagine how Sir H. Wheeler, or the surviving officer in command, could cituer trust such a man or wish to enter into terms with thin. On this point we hope to be better informed than we are. But, however that may be, Nena Sahib has released us from all obligation; and if he, or one of his gang, escape the belter, it must only be because the bullet or the bayont has been below-hand with it. We trust that Eugland will spare no cost of men or of money to vindicate justice and humanity upon the person of this savage and his myrmidous. Extraordinary crimes require extraordinary penalties; and, if we mean to sustain the British rule of human nature itself, in any wholesome conse of that term, in Hindostan, we must make a signal example of the men who have offered these alrouts upon it. We occasionally hear whispers about cheap sentiments of mercy and pity for those meu. Whatever we may desire for their souls, it is a plain innetter of business what we have to do with their bodies, and not only india, but the world, will be intolerable if we nestect our of the Hindoo. For our religion, for our teaching and preaching, they bave an utter contempt. Fortunately they understand what it is to be hung, and have a particular objection to it. Indeed, we have heard lately some earnest remonstrance against the application of this process to persons so kenly sensitive of its disgrace. That renders it pecularly adapted for the purpose. What we have to teach the followers of Mahomet and the worshippers of Visbu is that, whatever their creed or their caste, we treat murderers as we do dogs, and in

The Times, of the 29th, in an article on the 'one sad subject that weighs upon every British bosom,' trusts that nothing short of necessity will be allowed to limit the scale of the armament for the east. "We have not merely to reconquer strong positions and extensive districts, not merely to destroy some fifty regiments of treacherous and cowardly muti-neers, not merely to chastise and terrify into sub-mission independent princes, numerous contingents. mission independent princes, numerous contingents, erowds of irregulars, whole tribes of robbers and murderers, and a population naturally apt to side with the strong; but, more than all, we have to perform in the eyes of the world, and for the benefit of the human race, a tremendous act of vengeance. England, religion, and civilization have received the most intolerable insult that Mahomedan fanaticism could devise in a systematic series of deliberate brutalities on European women and children.'

The Times insists upon this and more. It demands that the outrages committed on the "women and unmarried girls who fell into the hands of the mutineers and populace of Delhi, who were carried in procession for hours through the chief thoroughfare of the city, with every horror that could degrade them in the eyes of the people, previous to the last brutalities and cruelties that then, in the sight of thousands, were perpetrated on them," shall be revenged; that not a stone of that city be left upon another; that "Delhi should for the future be only known in history as Sodom and Gomorrah." All Asia, the Times thinks, will be wiser for the exam-ple of the entire destruction of the Mogul empire.

France—The Empress Eugenie at a Bull Fight.—On Sunday, the 23d of August, the Empress Eugenie visited Bayonne to attend a bull fight in the Faubourg of St. Esprit, where these sports have been held for the last few years. The King of Wurtemburg was also present at the humanizing amusement, so dear to all Spaniards, and consequently to Her Majesty of the French. Two animals were killed, after undergoing the usual process of torture, to the apparent satisfaction of the amateurs, and as similar pleasure was about to be afforded by a third buchery, a heavy thinder storm came on, at once interrupting the sport. A number of the spectators rushed for shelter to the gallery or platform where the musicians were stationed, which was, excepting the boxes occupied by dignitaries, the only spot covered in the arena.

This, structure, which was unusually fragile, gave way beneath the weight of the hundreds who pressed upon it, and all were precipitated to the ground. A great panie arose, and it was at first feared that several persons were killed, but it soon appeared that only one was crushed to death, although several lad limbs fractured. The mana-and troops had to be called on to disperse them.

Whether the Empress will again patronize Sunday bull-fights is not stated. It is said that the Empreor is strongly opposed to them, and desires to introduce a more thorough observance of the Sabbath in France; but his wife is a strong-minded woman. In Paris, the liberty of the press is regulated by a Board of Government Directors, and it appears that this Board have ordered Monsieur the editor of the Assemblée National into his august presence, and told him he must change the name of his paper. The editor had the liberty to comply, and he presented a new name for the decision of the Government. In France, there is something in a name.

THE MASONIC PRESENTATION.—At half-past two, yesterday afternoon, a procession of Masons was organized at Masonie Hall, on Exchange street, to proceed to St. James Hall for the purposes of a public presentation of testimonials to distinguished officers of the State and National Encampments of Knight Templars. The procession was arranged in the following order: following order:

insignia, gave it a very lively appearance, and the number of old and distinguished citizens in the ranks attracted special notice. On arriving at Saint James Hall, the ranks were reversed, the rear of the procession passing first into the Hall, under an arch formed by the swords of the Knights, the band meanwhile playing.

Sir Knight Viele announced the opening of the exercises by prayer by Rev. Sir Knight O. F. Starkey, Grand Chaplain. The prayer was simply the Lord's Prayer, recited by all the Knights, reverentially standing with doffed helmets.

Sir Knight Robert Morris, of Kentucky, then made the presentation address. It was an elegant and forcible statement of the feelings of the order toward the Hon. Wm. B. Hubbard, M. E. Grand Master of Knight Templars in the United States. Mr. Morris said that at the triennial convocation at Hartford, last year, the Grand Master who had guided their action for nine years preceding had declined a reelection; but on the urgent solicitation of his brethren had reconsidered that declination, and allowed himself to assume the insignia of office for another term of three years. The speaker alluded in glowing terms to the affection which had so long existed between the Garnd Master and his subordinate Encampments, during a term of faithful service, in which he had received no reward save the Mason's wages, 'the gratitude of the craft and the approval of Ged.'' as the motive which had induced the which he had received no reward save the Anason's wages, "the gratitude of the craft and the approval of God," as the motive which had induced the Grand Encampment of the U. S. to order the presentation of a honorarium for long and distinguished services. This occasion, the meeting of the Grand Commandery of New York, had been selected as the proper time for the fulfilment of that pleasing

In the course of his remarks Sir Knight Morris alluded eloquently to the history of the order, and especially to its Christian character, pledged to the maintenance of charity, hospitality, and chivalric masonry. He closed with these words:

"The inscription upon the jewel is 'In Hoe Signo Vinces. Presented to Hon. William Blackstone Hubbard, M. E. Grand Master of Knights Templar of the United States. A testimonial from the Grand Encampment of the United States, ordered September, 1856, A. O., 738.'

kingdoms of his Son."

The jewel thus presented is a Patriarchal Cross, a magnificent piece of workmanship, of solid gold, and has in the centre a diamond which cost $50. The cost of the whole was $300. It was manufactured by Ayers, of New York, to the order of the Grand Encampment of the United States, expressly for presentation to Grand Master Hubbard.

After music, the most eminent Grand Master made a reply full of eloquent expressions of gratified for the honor bestowed upon him, and replete well-timed reply.

When the Grand Master had resumed his seat, a testimonial was presented to Past Grand Commander John W. Simons, of the New York Grand Commandery, by the hands of Sir Knight John L. Lew-is, Jr., of Penn Yan. The testimonial was a diplo-ma in the form of a beautifully illuminated cross. Both the speeches, of the bestower and the recipient, were eloquent and apposite to the event. This testimonial was ordered by the State Grand Commandery.

The benediction was then pronounced by Rev. Sir Knight E. H. Cressey.

A PLAN TO CLEAR THE NORTH RIVER OF HEAVY ICE.—Capt. A. II. Schultz is about to propose to the underwriters, shipping merchants, and owners of ferries plying between this city and adjacent places, a plan for keeping the North river free from large masses of ice during the coming winter. It is well known that all the ice obstructions in the East river and every part of the harbor are caused by the drift of extensive fields from the North river, so that if the ice in that stream can be thoroughly chopped up of extensive fields from the North river, so that if the ice in that stream can be thoroughly chopped up on its way down, not only the river will be rendered navigable during the winter, but all the water about the city will be kept open. Capt. Schultz offers to do this for the sum of about $50,000, with the proviso that he shall not get any of the money unless he performs all that he promises. Should the requisite amount be subscribed by the parties interested, he will fit out four steamboats especially for the business, and keep them in constant use, or in readiness he will fit out four steamboats especially for the business, and keep them in constant use, or in readiness for it whenever occasion requires. He does not propose to cut the ice, for much of it is so thick as to defy separation in that way, but to break it into fragments by the weight of the boat, which is brought to bear upon it by means of a false bow constructed in the shape of a table spoon, extending for some distance beyond the real bow, and having the effect to slide the boat upon the ice until it breaks beneath the weight. This plan has been successfully tried on several boats owned or commanded by Capt. Schultz. With the four boats he hopes to be able to crush the field ice as fast as it forms in the North river, and to disperse it whenever it freezes over river, and to disperse it whenever it freezes over again in the other waters above the city.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared onstrictive cleaning properties, after the mauner of the celebrated Holland in fewer, Boerhave. Because of its great-success in most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here at a these over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.
It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally lustantian cousin its effect, it finds its way directly to the sext of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, intusing new health and visor in the system.

NOTIC'?—Whoever expects to find this a heverage will be disappined; but to the sick, weak, and low spirited it will prove a grateful aromatic cordial, possessed of singular remedial properties.

CAUTION.

The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Be not perspaded to buy anything else until you have given Boerhave's Holland Bitters a fair trial. One bottle will couvince you how infinitely superior it is to all these imitations.

The John Gault has arrived at Cincinnati and will be here to-morrow morning.

We are indebted to the attentive clerk of the Wm. Dickson for a copy of the manifest.

The Umpire, Capt. Kelly, has undergone thorough repair, and will run as a night packet between this and Cincinnati, leaving here and Cincinnati alternately at 3 P. M.

The Chancellor. - This splendid light draught packet arrived from New Orleans this morning. The C. is one of the finest low-water packets afloat. Mr. M. C. Foster, her attentive clerk, has our thanks for a copy of the manifest and papers. She will leave for New Orleans to-morrow.

In another column we publish an order from the Mayor, which has been served on the managers of the Mechanics' Institute, protesting against the assemblage of negroes at their hall this evening, and instructing the police to prevent it. The Mayor says he ordered a similar notice to be served on the managers of the Masonic Hall Fair last week, which was disregarded. This is correct. The managers of the Masouic Fair took legal advice on the subject, and on the strength of it disregarded the Mayor's proclamation. In the present case, however, he is determined, whether right or wrong, to enforce his order, for he instructs the police to act "as in the peaceful suppression of unlawful assemblies;" that is, to prevent the negroes from going into the hall. We do not see the necessity at this time for such an order. The ordinances upon which it is probably based have loug been dead letters upon the statute books, and, if they are to be revived, notice of such intention should be previously given by the authorities. This would prevent any disobedience on the part of citizens and the conflict of opinions which appears at present to exist.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS. - Monday, September 14. Jacob Brown, a free negro, recently purchased the freedom of his wife from II, M. Weatherford. He is now a drunken, dissolute character, and abuses his family, but was discharged.

Frank Barr, Isaac Percy, Frank Fobin, and Chas. Lehy were intoxicated. Percy was discharged and the remainder held to bail in $200 for three mouths

Frank Stein, Joseph Schwartz, and Chas. Gerber had procured a horse and buggy, gone to the country, and, coming down Broadway, ran over a small negro boy and mule, the property of Mr. Chickering. The boy was slightly injured, but the mule was killed. Bail in $300 to keep the peace six months. Pat, alias Frank Brannan, was too free with his tongue in the court-house, and fined $1. Molasses from Indian Corn.-A Mr. Geo. S. Kintzi, of Exeter, Berks county, Pa., has, according to the Reading Gazette, succeeded in procuring an excellent quality of molasses from the common Indian corn. He took eight corn stalks, cut off at the root and at the ear, crushed them in a cider mill. and pressed the juice out with his hands. A quart of sap was thus obtained, which after boiling thirty minutes, yielded one pint of beautiful syrup.

Mr. Whitty has of late produced a marked sensation at the literary circles of Great Britain by a series of satirical papers published in the London Times, under the norm deniume of "The Stranger in Parliament," which have gained for him the most envishien notoriety of being one of the most powerful political essaylsts in Europe and a satirist of great vigor and strength. This, his first complete work, is of the most hrilliant character, combining a racy expose of certain literary and artistic cliques in London, together with a story and plotwhich for quaintness and interest has been compared to the "Christic Johnstone" and "Peg Woffington" of Charles Reade.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Sept. 12, 1857.

To James Kirkpatrick, Chief of Police:
Please cause, substantially, the like prohibition in writing to be made out and delivered to the managers of the Mechanics' Fair that I caused the Assistant Chief, Mr. Ebrick, to serve on the managers of the Masonic Temple Fair, against the assembly of free negroes and slaves in the Fair building on Monday or any other coming night.

The social condition of our people must be maintained. Whites and blacks must sustain the position the law fixes for each class. Blacks cannot legally assemble in any place or house in this city except in such house or place fixed and licensed by the General Council. The General Council has not fixed and licensed any house or place for the assembly of colored persons, except for public divine worship. Let the managers be notified. Let colored persons be warned (from attending) at the door of the Fair on the night it is opened for them. If the managers, after this notice, shall persist in disregarding this injunction, let the police act in this matter as in the peaceful suppression of unlawful assemblies. Let not the reprehensible conduct of the managers of the Masonic Fair be looked upon as a precedent. Let the managers of the Mechanics' Fair, as good citizens, stand by law and order, and sustain the authorized officer of the city in the discharge of his duty. I hope a copy of this notice served on the managers, and published on Monday morning in the Louisville Jonnal, will be sufficient to prevent this unlawful assembly of colored persons without further interposition of the police of the city.

[From the N. Y. Post, Thursday, P. M.] Mrs. Cunningham Inicted by The Grand Jury—The Indictment.—This morning the grand jury came in, and their foreman, Philetus H. Holt, handed to the clerk a true bill for feloniously producing a false heir, against Emma Augusta Cunningham, alias Emma Augusta Burdell. We have received a printed copy of the indictment, which is of great length,

There are ten distinct counts. The first count states who are the legal heirs of the late Harvey Burdell, in accordance with the late decision of the Surrogate, and charges that the defendant on the 4th of August, 1857, did, knowingly, fraudulently, and feloniously, produce a living infant, and did then and there feloniously and falsely pretend that the said infant was the child of, and had been born of parents who were respectively, to-wit: her, the said Emma Augusta Cunningham, otherwise called Emma Augusta Burdell, as the legitimate mother of the said infant child, and him, the aforesaid Harvey Burdell, as its legitimate father and by him lawfully begotten in his life time of the body of her the said Emma Augusta, in lawful wedlock; whereas, in truth and in fact, as she, the said Emma Augusta, then and there well knew, the said Imma Augusta, then and there well knew, the said infant as aforesaid, by her feloniously produced and falsely protected area to the said to the sai There are ten distinct counts. The first count aforesaid, by her feloniously produced and felsely pretended, was not the child of the said parents or of either of them, but was in truth and in fact born of the body of one Elizabeth Ann Anderson.

The count further alleges that, if the child had been born as she pretended, it would have been eutitled to inherit the estate of Dr. Burdell.

The succeeding counts all charge the same of-nse. One refers particularly to the attempt to infense. fense. One refers particularly to the attempt to intercept the inheritance of Dr. Burdell's property in Bond street, in Herkimer, and elsewhere; another relates the "production" of the child to one John de la Moutagnie and divers other persons, as the lawful child of herself and the late Harvey Burdell; another charges the production as a felonious offense against the statute; another charges an intent to defraud the reveral legal heirs of the Burdell estate; still another accuses her of falselv and feloniously pretending to Geo. W. Dilks and others that the child was the lawful heir of Dr. Burdell. She is also charged with producing the baby to Ann Barnes, the "nurse," to one Samuel L. Catlin and others, all of which is alleged to be against the form of the statute in such case made and provided, and against the peace of the people of the State of New York the peace of the people of the State of New York

Soon after the indictment against Mrs. Cuuningham was presented in the Court of General Sessions, Mr. Stafford, her counsel, applied to Judge Peabody for an order to renove the indictment to the Court of Oyer and Terminer. The District Attorney consenting, the order was granted.

THE LEXINGTON FAIR. - This splendid exhibition closed on Friday with the finest display of saddle and buggy horses ever seen in America. It was a sight worth traveling a thousand miles to witness. Over twelve thousand persons were in attendance, and the amphitheater was densely crowded with all the blooming beauty of that lovely Paradise of Kentucky.

In the open ring for mares, with nineteen beautiful and spirited competitors, Mr. G. D. Hunt's auimal took the premium. She is said to be, by the very best judges, the finest mare in the West. It would be difficult to find her equal anywhere.

We are indebted to our attentive friend W. E Milton, Esq., of this city, who proved an efficient Assistent Secretary at Lexington, for the subjoined list of premiums awarded on Friday:

Dr. Cathin—He professes Seclusion to Bail, and Philosophically Seeks Retirement.—Now that Mrs. Cunningham has succeeded in getting her right to bail acknowledged, the inquiry has been raised, what is to become of Dr. Catlin, and is he not also to be set free? On the first discovery of the "baby fraud," it will be recollected, he turned State's evidence, since which time he has been detained in the Tombs as a witness, keeping himself very secluded and seeing little company. In consequence of this aversion which he has manifested toward exhibiting himself to gratify the curiosity of the public, all sorts of rumors have been circulated about his having made startling disclosures to the District Attor-sorts of rumors have been circulated about his having made startling disclosures to the District Attorney touching the whole history of the yet undeveloped Burdell mystery.

These rumors, it is secretly necessary to say, are entirely without foundation. Dr. Catliu has not confessed to the District Attorney that he personated Burdell in the marriage, or that he knows anything about the murder. He is detained in the Tombs merely as a witness in behalf of the State against Mrs. Cunningham in the matter of the attempt to Mrs. Cunningham in the matter of the attempt to produce a bogus baby. Neither is it true, as our reporter is authorized to state, that the District Atreporter is authorized to state, that the District Attorney permits no one to see him. On the contrary, any proper person is now, and has been, so far as the District Attorney is concerned, allowed to visit him at all seasonable hours; but Dr. Catlin himself is not anxious to receive visitors.

The truth is, the Doctor is something of a philoso-The truth is, the Doctor is something of a philosopher, and, like all philosophers, he appreciates the benefits, and even the necessity, at certain critical periods of life, of retiring for a while from the turnult and bustle of the world, and indulging in a retrospective glance at the past. One of those critical periods he freely ackgowledges has arrived in his case; and, having found himself in a comfortable cell in the Tombs, instead of resorting to the habeas corpus, and getting some friend to bail him out, so that he may the more publicly expose himself, he calmly sits down on his wooden stool, lights his fragrant Havana, and, while he watches its curling vapors, indulges in profitable meditation curling vapors, indulges in profitable meditation upon the sinfulness of man, the artfulness of woman, and the funny and foolish aspect of all things in general.

"Why should I wish to get out," says he; "my character is gone, my business in Brooklyu is broken up; my wife has left me; I have neither money nor friends, and I do not care to expose myself to the derision of my enemies. Besides, I have long had a desire to live for a time the life of a recluse, and although the Tombs is not the most desirable place in the world, yet I am well treated here, and do not find it at all uncomfortable. No, sir. I have not made any efforts to get hall and general. here, and do not find it at all unconstortable. No, sir, I have not made any efforts to get hail, and shall not. I don't know that I could get bail if I would, and I am certain I wouldn't if I could. I shall remain here, contented, until I have given my evidence in the case for which I am detained as a witness, and then I intend to start immediately for Australia."

The Doctor was taken before the grand jury yes The Doctor was taken before the grand jury yesterday, it being the first time he has been outside the Tombs since his incarceration. He takes his daily walk upon the corridors, and is allowed all the privileges usually granted to prison witnesses. He certainly forms one exception to the hardships so commonly dwelt on of keeping the witness in prison while the criminal is allowed to go free. There are cases where freedom would be a curse, unless it were enjoyed in exile, and Dr. Catlin's seems to be one of them.

[For the Lonisville Journal.] RECEIPTS OF THE UNITED STATES AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY-KENTUCKY HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY-PROPOSITION MODIFIED.

Society—Proposition Modified.

Messrs. Editors: I have read with much interest your proposition in regard to "Floral Hall," and feel scarcely less equal than yourselves that it would be a sort of Vandalism to allow that edifice to be removed from the fair grounds, it being at once the general theme of praise for its beautiful architectural proportions and for its striking effect as a feature in the landscape. A desire to preseve this building, and at the same time to secure a fair equivalent to the United States Agricultural Society and save Louisville and Jefferson county from the shame of a failure, when the sole management of the fair was confided to their citizens, should actuate every well wisher of the city and county. And it is with this intent, as well as to place rightly before the public the position of the Kentucky Horticultural Society, I write.

I write.
Your statement is substantially correct. The Kentucky Horticultural Society, in order to insure a fair degree of protection to the orehard, the kitchen, and flower garden, both in the national exhibition just closed and in all future local exhibitions by the S. W. A. Society, did propose, on certain conditions, to aid in the ereciion of such a building—but this proposition was declined, so that the Horticultural Society stands unpledged, though ready to act whenever such action promises to result in good. The Kentucky Horticultural Society is not an endowed institution, and for being free from delyt with a institution, and for being free from debt, with a small fund at interest, it is indebted to the prudence and economy of a small band of faithful friends and the liberality of fortuitons visitors at its weekly and stated exhibitions in Louisville. So that whatever is done by either local Society, must be done through the agency of private munificence, and the who'e matter resolves itself into this: "What is the best direction for the donor to give to his bounty with a view to promote the interests of the community whereof he is a member?"

whereof he is a member?"
One method suggested is to purchase and transfer to the S. W. A. & M. Association, the purchasers to have scrip for the amount. This is objectionable; first, because it increases the free tickets or deadheads, thereby lessening revenue. And, again, because it does not secure the co-operation of the Horticultural Society, whose aid is probably necessary to turn the building to good account.

Another mode of action spoken of is to purchase the buildings and donate them unconditionally to the the buildings and donate them unconditionally to the Agricultural Society. This course I think still more objectionable, because there can hardly exist a reason why the man who adds $50 to the value of the grounds to-day, should have fewer privileges than he who has only added $50 to their value up to this he who has only added $50 to their value up to this date. In truth, among all the scheues I have heard, yours, with some modifications, seems most prolitic in advantages—which is the endowment of the Kentucky Horticultural Society by the purchase of life memberships. My belief is that the wants of Louisville and vicinity demand a change in the management of our local Agricultural Society. Cattle and mules—interests which are not of us or with us—are too much courted and flattered in our schedules of premiums, whilst the great local interest—manufactures, the kitcheu garden and the orchard—are slighted and ignored, and I doubt the speedy coming of any change for the better, nuless those directing of any change for the better, nuless those direct-

Ing of any change for the better, nuless those directly concerned take the matter in hand.

In cities, fruits and garden vegetables, are articles of prime necessity. Among the world of farmers they occupy secondary positions, to be cared for only when the staples of revenue for the husbandman demand nothing at his hands. And this low estimate of the gradual result is reachily a reachily in the staples of the gradual results. of the orchard prevails in even liberal communities. Thus, in Missouri, where a single society dispenses $16,000 in premiums, and gives to individual animals in some classes three hundred silver dollars, if mais in some classes three hundred silver dollars, if a llovey, a Walker, or a Wilder should compete in the orchard department with a contribution of four hundred varieties of the pear, and if either should compete successfully, why his labors would be rewarded by the bestowment of the pit ful sum of five warded by the bestowment of the pit ful sum of five hundred copper jacks!!

Argument, when we need action, is out of place. I therefore proceed to my modification of your plan, which is: That Isaac Everett, Benj. J. Adams, Jas. Guthrie, Will. Watkins, Thomas II. Hunt, E. D. Hobbs, and Arthur Peter, be a committee to take subscriptions of shares of fifty dollars each, one share to be worth a life membership in the Kentucky Horticultural Society. The books to be kept open until a fund be raised which will not only secure the hall but also the "flarrison Grove," if to be bought at a fair price. I know several gentleunen in the country who will give lifty dollars for the latter object, and one farmer has named the sum of five hunject, and one farmer has named the sum of five hun-dred dollars. With how much more reason ought we to calculate on Louisville for this aid, it, as it should be, these grounds were kept open for summer drives from the city. Another privilege might be held out as an inducement to the wealthy to invest, to-wit: the privilege, under sanction of a board, to erect a light pavilion in the grove for his exclusive use whenever one individual held ten shares or

These are simple suggestions, and whether the donors endow the Horticultural Society, whose inclinations would lead them to favor the objects proposed, or whether they endow the Agricultural Society, constraining the same by covenant to extend the proper patronage to the same objects, I shall be satisfied. There must be a perfect understanding and the most cordial good will between all concerned to ensure success, and if this result crowns our efforts. I am indifferent as to the road by which we reach an end so desirable.

The following important information regarding rust Compan is given in the money article of the Commercial this morning. It has produced a great sensation:

A good deal has been said, and some indignation and some indignation manifested, because the directors have not, up to the present time, made any statement of the affairs of the New York office. The directors here are now (and we speak advisedly) about as ignorant of the affairs of that office as they were the day after the suspension took place. And we should regard it as a most difficult thing for them to make a statement, when they have nothing to eater. They appointed when they have nothing to state. The a committee composed of two of our They appointed f our well-known citizens to iuvestigate the affairs of the New York

When that committee arrived in New York, it found the accounts of the office in the greatest con-fusion, and Mr. Ludlow, the cashier, refused to give any information whatever, so as to enable the committee to arrange the accounts. In thus refusing he said he was acting under advice of counsel. He since, however, has condescended to impart a little information; but, as a general thing, the committee has to open a correspondence with the creditors and debtors in order to enable them to trace out the ac-

This course is necessarily tedious, and progresses made so far throw no light whatever upon the true state of matters, and the whole affair still presents as dark and gloomy an appearance as at any time since the suspension. These facts, based as they are upon the most reliable information, show clearly that the accounts of the New York office are in the most miserable condition, and the greater portion of them, no doubt, for the last few months, have been kept in the shape of memorandums.

THE ALLEGED AMERICAN DUEL IN SOUTH AMERI-CA .- The following official account of this affair has been communicated to the State Department:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,

Washington, Sept. 8, 1857. As statements have been published in the news-papers in regard to the alleged duel between Profes-sors Moore and Francis, in the Napo region, Ecuador, resulting in the death of the latter, it is believed that the friends of both gentlemen will be interested in the following very different version of the catas-trophe, communicated at the time of its occurrence, trophe, communicated at the time of its occurrence, by the Ecuadorian Minister for Foreign Affairs to the Minister of the United States in Quito, by whom it was transmitted to this department:

"On the 19th of April, at 7 o'clock in the evening, Mr. Francis was seated at the door of the louse which he occupied, together with his companion, Mr. Moore. The latter was, in the dark and within the house, preparing his gun for the purpose of shooting a night-bird that had, on many previous occasions, perched on the roof of the building, and, as he was fixing on a cap, the hammer fell, the gun went off, and wounded the unfortunate Mr. Francis. This is the account given of the occurrence in the declarations embodied in the preliminary examination conducted by the Governor in relation to the nation conducted by the Governor iu relation to the event. A copy of it is hereby transmitted, in order that the Minister may have a full knowledge of the circumstances.

From the representation of the Governor, the wound received by Mr. Francis is a very serious one, and likely to result in death. Extremely pain-ful would it prove to the Government of Ecuador should this unfortunate occurrence be attended by such a result. For the purpose, therefore, as much as in its power lies, of warding off such a consummation, and of thus paying a tribute to science, giving a proof of the estimation in which the citizens of the great Republic are held, it has issued orders to the Governor of the Province of the East to spare no expense or sacrifice in endeavoing to save the precious life of the distinguished American naturalist, as will be seen, Mr. Minister, from the copy which you will find enclosed by this Depart-ment.

The following extract from a despatch received on the 4th inst., from the Minister of the U. S. in Ecuador, and dated July 17th, appears to preclude the idea that the death of Mr. Francis was the result of a due:

"I now learn by letters from Messrs. Moore and Geo. C. Edwards that, after suffering intensely for some two months, Dr. Francis died of his wound on the 15th of June. Mr. Moore pursues the object of the exploration alone, and has proceeded down the Maranon and Amazon rivers." Maranon and Amazon rivers.'

DAILY REVIEW OF THE MARKET, LOUISVILLE, Sept. 14. As usual on Saturday, the market was very quiet. Moncy market unchanged. There is a disposition evinced to advace the rate of discount on currency. The brokers are
